

Over-religious Activity, a Threat to Biodiversity: A Case Study

Sachidananda Padhy* and Ratnaprava Mohapatra

Vedic Science Research Centre, Bhaba Nagar, 1st Line, Berhampur 760 004, Odisha, India

E-mail: sachi_padhy@rediffmail.com*

KEYWORDS Over-religious activity. Pressure on Biodiversity. Aayurveda

ABSTRACT Plants are worshiped, but simultaneously are equally tortured. A case study of an Aamlakam plant (Phyllanthus emblica) worshiped in a temple premises reveals the truth.